“ To my incredibly loving, kind, giving, compassionate, hilarious mamaw: you gave my life meaning. You taught me to love with every ounce of my being. You taught me to give even when I have nothing to give, as life’s purpose is selfless, and that’s what you always were. You were the light in every room, making every person around you smile and laugh as it was impossible not to around you. I cry everyday for you, but I know you would want me to carry on with your memory and do everything in my power to make you proud. I know that my two bright and shining angels will be with me every step of the way. I love you more than the sun, the moon and the stars, mamaw. Tell papaw I say hello and I miss him and please, dance your little heart out up there. I know you will

Your grandbaby (forever),

Alexis

“ Diana was a special lady along with her husband Harold.. She always had a beautiful smile. I met Diana and her husband Harold at our church, Church Of God of Prophecy . They both always sat on the front row in the church. They never found a stranger, always smiled and greeted everyone and prayed with everyone. Diana will miss you.

“ You loved the beach, cooking and swinging on the boat dock. I know you went out of your way to make ppl feel welcome in your home. I will miss our quick runs to the store and spending spring break at the beach and y'all's summers in Kentucky.

Love,
